Handbook Overview

Thank you for volunteering to be a leader in your local SNAPA chapter! When SNAPA chapters are thriving and sustainable organizations, they provide members with opportunities to:

- network with other school nutrition professionals in their area
- work through shared challenges
- celebrate successes
- learn together in a friendly and professional environment
- connect with and promote school nutrition to their community in a positive way
- have fun with their peers

As a chapter leader, your primary goals include:

- Supporting the mission, goals and annual plan of the state and national association;
- Knowing the constitutional bylaws and policies of the association, maintaining Chapter governance within these provisions, and routinely reviewing for compliance;
- Leading by example and with personal integrity, encouraging teamwork and cooperation, listening to member concerns and ideas, and following up as necessary;
- Dedicating the necessary time and resources to the tasks of the Chapter President; and
- Appreciating and utilizing each person's special talents to achieve objectives and grow the Chapter in new and exciting ways.

Your Responsibilities to the State Association:

- Serve as the Chapter representative to state association.
- Follow plan of action or program of work.
- Provide update on program of work before each Board meeting (as requested)
- Provide update of Chapter bylaws and/or policy changes.
- Provide officers list and changes as they occur.
- Update list of schools/administrators within your Chapter.
- Send calendar of activities for your Chapter for the year.

This handbook is a guide to starting and revitalizing your SNAPA chapter to help you:

- Create your SNAPA chapter within the right framework
- Recruit new members
- Engage your members
- Develop new volunteers
- Fundraise for sustainability

If you have any questions or concerns, please contact your SNAPA Regional Representative. A list of Regional Representatives is available at www.SNAPA.org.

About SNAPA

Mission Statement

SNAPA is the statewide organization for school nutrition professionals committed to advancing the quality of child nutrition programs through education and advocacy.

About SNAPA

The School Nutrition Association of Pennsylvania was chartered by the American School Association in 1955 with Catherine Nichols as President. SNAPA members are actively involved in all aspects of school nutrition.

SNAPA has divided the state into 8 regions which currently has 20 active chapters to provide service to its members. Elected Regional Representatives contribute significantly to the success of the State Association.

SNAPA is an affiliate of the School Nutrition Association

SNAPA's fiscal year is July 1st-August 1st.

Starting a SNAPA Chapter

Starting a SNAPA Chapter in your local community is a great way to get SNAPA members more involved in the association and provide them with opportunities for networking, learning, and having fun with other school nutrition professionals in the area. The process of starting a chapter can be intimidating if you try to do everything at once. SNAPA recommends beginning a chapter in stages, as this will make the process more manageable and give you time to build your chapter's membership to be a sustainable organization.

Step 1: Generating Buzz and Recruiting Members

The first step to creating a SNAPA chapter is getting local school nutrition professionals (including employees, managers, directors, and others) involved and ready to participate. Reach out to nonmembers in your area to let them know the benefits of joining and how they can participate.

Are there already SNAPA members in your school district? Start meeting informally together or begin by offering training with a local community partner or gather the group to brainstorm ideas on potential events and activities to start up your chapter. Read the "Revitalizing Your Chapter" section for membership recruitment and engagement ideas.

Step 2: Reach Out to Your State Association

Before you create a local chapter, it is important to reach out to your state association to find out the requirements of becoming a local chapter and for support in beginning your chapter. Contact the membership chair, the executive director, and/or the Regional Representative in your region to get started. Even if you are aware of the requirements, it is good to connect with your state association, as they will play a big role in making your chapter an official part of the association.

Step 3: Create Chapter Bylaws

To become a chapter, you will need to create local chapter bylaws, which are in line with SNAPA and with SNA. Sample bylaws can be found at www.schoolnutrition.org/chapters101. Your bylaws will give your local chapter structure and order and will define the processes for governing your organization. Bylaws answer questions like "How are board of directors members elected?", "When and how are board meetings held and conducted?", "Who are the members of this chapter?", etc.

Step 4: Apply to Become a Chapter

You will need to apply to become a local chapter with the SNAPA. The board of directors will need to approve your chapter. Working closely with your state membership chair, state association executive, and your regional representative will help to ensure you are completing the process correctly.

Step 5: Request a SNAPA logo

Request from the executive director the official SNAPA Logo. This can be done by emailing executivedirector@SNAPA.org.

Revitalizing a SNAPA Chapter

A strong, vibrant chapter is one of the best ways to engage and retain SNAPA members. Local SNAPA chapters give SNAPA members the opportunity to meet other school nutrition professionals near them, make new friends, gain confidence, learn new skills, have fun, share ideas, and promote the school nutrition profession to those in their community. Chapters retain membership largely based on their local chapter performance.

In short, strong chapters are strong networks.

Make your chapter a growing, thriving organization by making simple changes and consistently and constantly implementing best practices.

In this section of the handbook, you'll learn the basics of:

- membership recruitment,
- membership retention,
- membership engagement,
- volunteer development, and
- fundraising.

SNA Partnerships

Revitalizing your chapter is a team effort. You can't revitalize a chapter on your own, and we don't expect you to! We have three levels working together: SNA national, SNAPA, and local chapters. Each level of SNA brings something different to the table, and if one level is successful, it helps all levels of SNA. We're all on the same team, working towards the same vision: well-nourished children prepared for success!

SNA National

Our national association, SNA, consists of both the national board of directors, who are elected SNA members from across the country, and national headquarters staff in National Harbor, MD, right outside of Washington, DC. SNA national acts as the national voice of school nutrition. At SNA national, we promote and advocate for school nutrition programs and personnel and educate the various public entities (Congress, allied groups, etc.) about school nutrition. SNA provides professional development and training through online webinars, the SNA certificate program, the SNS credentialing program, and national conferences. For upcoming webinar training opportunities and an archive of recorded webinars, go to www.schoolnutrition.org/webinars. For a listing of upcoming national conferences, go to: www.schoolnutrition.org/meetings.

SNA also publishes and provides members with 11 editions of School Nutrition magazine each year. School Nutrition is SNA's award-winning flagship publication and is the only magazine targeted specifically to the unique operational needs of school nutrition professionals.

SNA also implements multiple membership marketing programs to help members take advantage of their benefits (such as the STEPS Challenge, School Lunch Hero Day, National School Lunch Week and National School Breakfast week) and to encourage membership recruitment (such as the Star Club and Annual Membership Campaign).

SNA also works to build a strong network of school nutrition professionals from across the country. SNA provides networking opportunities online and at national conferences.

State Associations

Currently, SNA has 49 state associations, along with local chapters in Rhode Island and the District of Columbia. SNA's state associations provide support for local chapters, advocate on behalf of school nutrition and school nutrition professionals on the state level and provide members with networking and training opportunities. The state affiliate in Pennsylvania is The School Nutrition Association of Pennsylvania (SNAPA). To get in contact with your state association visit www.SNAPA.org.

Local Chapters

Local chapters are the grassroots of SNA and SNAPA. A thriving local chapter provides training and professional development opportunities, gives members a chance to share ideas, successes and challenges together with peers in a supportive environment. Chapters are full of friends and fun, give back to the community in a meaningful way, and advocate for school nutrition programs and professionals on a local level.

SNA national is dedicated to helping support our state associations and our local chapters. If you need support, we recommend reaching out to your state association membership chair, executive director or regional representative. Please also feel free to email membership@SNAPA.org for ideas and assistance.

Building a Strong Foundation

Building a strong foundation for your chapter is the first step in revitalizing your chapter's efforts. Going back to basics can ensure that your chapter is running effectively and focusing on what's most important: our mission and our members.

Before diving into new programs or services for your members, start by reevaluating the following with your chapter's board and creating joint expectations:

- Your mission: A thriving organization is focused on its mission. Review the SNAPA mission and goals with your chapter board. Discuss the SNAPA mission and the following questions: What is your mission? Why is your mission important? How can you connect everything you do back to your mission and the goals of SNAPA? How can you refocus your efforts on the mission and goals?
- Your bylaws and policies: A good, professional organization needs a workable set of bylaws to establish its structure, serve as a guide in conducting meetings and enable it to function efficiently. Do you have an up-to-date copy of your chapter bylaws and chapter policies and procedures? Review the bylaws, policies, and procedures with your chapter board. Make sure that everyone understands the processes of the chapter. Also, make sure that your chapter bylaws are compatible, and not in conflict with, the SNAPA's bylaws and SNA's bylaws. To view state association's bylaws, go to www.SNAPA.org

- Job descriptions and board orientation: A strong chapter board has knowledgeable, dedicated members who know the expectations for themselves and the other members of their board and are prepared for success through orientation and training. Do you have readily available job descriptions for every member of your board? Do you share the job description with individuals interested in becoming a member of the board? Do you hold an annual orientation for your board members to go over the job descriptions, explain the expectations, and receive buy-in for the year ahead? Job descriptions are available in this handbook. Remember- a board orientation can be as simple as having the outgoing board member sitting down and going over the job description, responsibilities, and processes with the incoming board member over a cup of coffee.
- Emphasis on membership: Membership recruitment and engagement isn't just the job of the membership chair alone—it should be a full board and a full association effort! Remind your board members to talk up the value and benefits of being a part of SNAPA consistently, constantly, and with enthusiasm to recruit members. Brainstorm ways together to get more SNAPA members involved on a regular basis. Membership is a team effort!
- Engaged members and effective meetings: When members feel like they are getting value out of their membership by attending meaningful and effective meetings where they learn, network, and have fun, they will be more likely to continue being a member and to consider volunteering more time for the association. Read the membership engagement section for ideas from other local chapters and SNAPA.
- Develop volunteers: Do you have the same board members leading your chapter year after year? Do you have trouble finding members to take on a leadership position? Incorporating succession planning and volunteer development into all your activities can help to ensure that chapter members feel prepared to take on more responsibilities and that current chapter leaders don't get burnt out due to a lack of support or someone else to take the reins. Check the volunteer development section of this handbook.

Membership Recruitment and Retention

Membership recruitment and retention are most successful when they are considered and implemented as a team effort by the entire organization. Your local chapter membership chair should lead the effort, but he or she should be supported and helped by all chapter members in recruiting and retaining chapter members. Be sure to put membership as an action item on your agenda, not just as a report. This will help you continue to focus on membership in everything you do.

If you have a larger, more active chapter, consider having a membership committee or task force. This committee should include your membership chair, along with a diverse group of members who can reach out to different individuals, provide new ideas, and bring a range of personal experiences.

On your committee and in your organization, assign members to specific membership-related tasks, including:

- Recruiting: Reaching out to school nutrition professionals who aren't yet members and sharing the benefits of SNAPA membership.
- Welcoming: Welcoming new and potential members at every event and making sure they feel comfortable. Those in charge of welcoming should also call new members and let them know about upcoming events. A personal touch like a phone call can go a long way!
- Retaining: Members renew more frequently when they are reminded to renew. Reach out to individuals who need to or have not renewed to remind them to pay their dues and retain their membership. This is a great opportunity to reiterate the benefits of membership, let them know about upcoming events, and ask them for feedback about your chapter and the association.
- Engaging: Make sure your events are worthwhile and in tune with the mission of SNAPA and the needs of your members. Ask members to provide feedback about what they'd like to get out of local chapter meetings.

Recruitment Basics for All Members

Research shows that most new members join an association through existing members. To be successful in recruiting members, you must clearly understand the services offered by the association and how membership in the School Nutrition Association and SNAPA will benefit the potential new member.

Recruiting new members to join the association is both fun and rewarding. Who better to sell a membership in SNAPA than you? You are simply helping your colleagues by providing them with the resources available to maximize their potential.

There are generally three basic reasons why a person decides to join a professional association:

1. Networking with peers
2. Job opportunities and career advancement
3. Continuing education

These three reasons are prioritized differently for individual members; however, each one tends to be a driving force behind why someone joins an association.

Making the Membership A.S.K.

A: Always be prepared

Be prepared to share your personal story of SNAPA membership and give potential members the details about joining SNAPA. Before speaking with potential new members of SNAPA, be sure to brush up on all the wonderful benefits SNAPA provides its members. Below is a list of benefits which you can use as talking points when trying to recruit new members:

Benefits include:

- Ability to Learn from Peers across the State and around the Country – Meet and network with school nutrition directors and employees from around the state and around the country who are dealing with similar issues and problems. Share insight and creative ideas that will strengthen school nutrition programs.
- Develop Yourself – Continue to grow and learn with state and national workshops and classes on everything from nutrition and management strategies to marketing. Take advantage of SNA's certificate and/or credentialing program that offer members the opportunity to further their professional growth.
- Know Your Industry – Through the award-winning School Nutrition magazine, SNA's website, and several email newsletters, stay on top of the many developments in the school industry, from new regulations to new recipes.

- Your Political Voice – Make your concerns heard. SNA and SNAPA makes sure that you always have a voice, and your concerns are acted upon in Washington, D.C. SNA offers training on how to talk to your representatives about what is important to you.
- Reliable Research – Access ongoing critical child nutrition research that you may not find anywhere else.
- Scholarships for Success – SNAPA has information on grants and scholarships that can help you meet your continuing education needs.
- Educating the Public – Stay informed about news in school nutrition programs to use in working with the media, from talking points and press releases to public service announcements and position statements.
- Member-Only Discounts – Enjoy a variety of discounts on products and programs, including SNAPA conferences, SNA certification, publications, continuing education and webinars.

SNAPA also has information about membership benefits and a downloadable video you can use for chapter meetings at www.SNAPA.org.

S: Show your enthusiasm!

When asking a potential member to join SNAPA, it's important to let your enthusiasm show! Asking in a positive, inviting way will make a big difference. Also, speak to what SNAPA has given you personally, such as learning opportunities, great friends, a chance to network with others in the same position as you so you don't feel alone, etc. Sharing personal experiences makes SNAPA membership relatable and desirable.

K: Know your audience

When asking someone to join, remember who you are talking to and what is important to them. Making a personal connection with someone and understanding their needs will increase your chances of getting a member to join.

Sample Responses to Objections to SNAPA Membership

As you and your members start to reach out to non-members about the benefits of joining SNAPA, you may run into these common objections. Review and practice the responses below.

Objection	Your Response
SNA Membership Dues Are Too High	The cost to join SNA is small in comparison to all the services and benefits you will receive. For your one-year membership dues, you receive: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> 11 issues of School Nutrition magazine. Access to members-only tools on www.schoolnutrition.org Professional development opportunities Discounts on meetings, certificate fees, Emporium merchandise and insurance plans Up-to-date information on what’s happening in the area of nutrition Benefit of SNA’s public relations campaigns to educate the media and public about what’s new with school nutrition Access to Career Center where you can post job openings, look for career opportunities or post your resume for prospective employers National SNA membership is only about $00.15 per day for managers and only about $00.40 per day for directors (depending on state dues)! Add up the dues for local, state, and national membership and divide by 365 days to determine the cost of membership per day for your chapter.
Benefits of Membership Unclear	This is a lot of information to digest all at once. By being a member, you will have access to information and resources that will help you make a difference in your school

	nutrition program. More information is available in the membership brochure. You can also call SNAPA for details.
Don't Have Time to Participate	We understand that your time is valuable. There are many ways to engage with SNAPA as a member on your terms and you can choose what makes the most sense for you. SNAPA provides online learning opportunities through webinars and you can stay connected via social media, too. Throughout the year, SNAPA offers many opportunities to attend special interest meetings or annually at its annual conference. You can also attend local chapter meetings. How involved you become is up to you.
Belong to Another Association	SNAPA is the only association geared toward the needs of nutrition professionals and feeding our nation's children. Recognizing Membership Recruitment Efforts

Providing members with incentives to recruit members to SNAPA and your local chapter is a great way to promote recruitment and make membership recruitment a team effort by everyone in your chapter.

SNA's Annual Membership Campaign

SNA conducts an annual membership campaign to increase membership. It runs from June 1 through May 31, which is SNA's membership year. To make the campaign fun and encourage participation, there are prizes like beach vacations and registrations to SNA's Annual National Conference (ANC). The campaign works by encouraging members to participate and recruit new members for the association. For every 5 new members they recruit, their name is entered in the prize drawing, which is drawn at the end of the membership year. For a member to get credit for recruiting new members, their name must appear on the new member's membership application as the referral. This information is then entered in SNA's database during membership processing. SNA produces an annual brochure for the membership campaign, which is sent to all states for distribution. Reach out to your state association for these brochures.

SNA Star Club

The Star Club is SNA's way of recognizing and thanking members who recruit and retain SNA members.

Every time a member's name is listed on a new member application as the referrer (section 10 of application), that person receives one credit – plus an additional credit is earned for every year that member renews. Credits do not expire and once three (3) credits are achieved, an individual becomes a Star Club member for as long as they are an active SNA National member.

Star Club members are recognized throughout the year, including special recognition at the Annual National Conference (ANC). In addition, a gift of appreciation is awarded for each time a member reaches the next Star Club Level.

Star Club levels are as follows:

LEVEL	STAR CLUB CREDITS
Star Club Member	3 credits
Bronze Star	10 credits
Silver Star	50 credits
Gold Star	100 credits
Platinum Star	150 credits
Diamond Star	250 credits

Meeting Ideas from Local SNAPA Chapters

Many chapters have found creative ways to encourage members to recruit, recognize and thank those who make the effort to grow membership. Here are a few ideas from local SNAPA chapters from across the state:

- Free membership for the member who recruited the “newest” members over the past year
- Incentives for new members to join, including:
 - discounted membership fees
 - gifts for joining
 - prize drawings
- Prize drawing for everyone who has recruited a new member. Prizes could include:
 - gift certificates
 - free membership
 - free magazine or newsletter
 - merchandise
 - T-shirts
 - novelty items such as pins, coffee mugs, or tote bags

Membership Retention Basics

While there is no right or wrong way to encourage members to renew, it is important to encourage your members to renew no matter what. SNA communicates with all national members about renewing. SNAPA will communicate to members about renewing, as well. In this section, we outline how SNA headquarters and SNAPA encourage members to renew, and how you can help, too.

Renewal Notices for SNA HQ

SNA mails renewal notices to non- school district members (SDM) members via first-class mail, along with an email reminder two months prior to when they are due to renew. National and state dues are printed on all renewal forms. The dues amount printed on the form is based on the member type that the member paid dues on from the previous year. All renewal notices are printed, processed and mailed from SNA's national office.

In addition to the first renewal notice, SNA sends a second renewal notice approximately one month after the member was due to renew. This second notice reminds the lapsed member that they have not yet renewed their membership and the benefits they will miss out on if they do not renew.

The renewal notice is slightly different than the application used for new members. SNA only needs to update address and contact information from members who have moved, whereas the Association needs all information for new members.

Renewals for School District Owned Memberships (SDM) are sent via email to the designated SDM administrator at most twice a year, depending on the member's expiration date. Administrators may choose to pay for all the SDMs at one time, regardless of expiration dates. If requested, SNAPA will also work with the administrator to align expiration dates so they all lapse at the same time.

SNAPA Renewing Members

SNAPA also sends out reminders to these lapsed members. Every month, SNAPA checks the SNA database for grace members (members who failed to pay dues in the month that they were due) and expired members (members whose dues are three months past due) and communicate in some way to encourage them to renew. Members can contact our Membership Services Chair at membership@SNAPA.org for additional membership information.

How Your Chapter Can Help Renew Members

Before starting your own renewal efforts, we encourage you to check with SNAPA to find out how they communicate with members to renew. SNAPA may already be calling, emailing, or Snail-mailing renewal information to your members. It's important to remind members to renew without bombarding them with too much information.

If your state is proactively reaching out to members about renewing, you should coordinate your efforts with the state to find out if your chapter can help make personal phone calls to grace or expired members in your community. If your state association isn't already sending out renewal notifications, you may want to increase your efforts.

Please note that there is a difference between lost members and late members. Often, an association will remove a member for nonpayment of dues without finding out the reason for non-renewal. Because it is easier to keep a member than to recruit a new one, considerable energy should be expended on retention. Make sure that the member did not simply overlook payment—something that can easily happen in today’s busy world.

If a member fails to renew, it is important to find out if you are dealing with a lost or merely a late member. It is critical to contact members who fail to respond. A member who drops out because of poor service is a walking testimonial against the association. Research has shown that disgruntled customers will tell four others of their negative experience, while happy customers will tell only one about their positive experience. Dissatisfied members can hurt retention. Members may resign because they are no longer involved in the industry or the profession. Finding out why a member resigned affords opportunities to assuage negative feelings. Even if the member cannot be retained, a conciliatory gesture may prevent them from expressing negative thoughts to others and could even pave the way to rejoin later.

Membership Engagement

The key to engaging your membership effectively is providing your members with valuable learning and networking opportunities and making them feel like they are part of a local community of school nutrition professionals.

Holding consistent and meaningful meetings and events for your members will ensure they feel that they are getting a return on their investment from their SNAPA membership.

Meaningful Chapter Meetings

For a chapter meeting to be meaningful, it should meet these requirements:

- The meeting must have a valuable, easy-to-understand purpose.
- The purpose of the meeting must connect to the needs/desires of your members.
- The meeting should provide an educational opportunity.
- The meeting should have some fun elements and promote camaraderie among your members.
- The meeting should end on a high note. Celebrating and thanking your members regularly will help make them feel valued.

Connecting Your Chapter Meetings to Your Members

Finding out why your members joined and what they would like to get out of their membership is a great way to ensure that your meetings connect to the needs and desires of your members.

Surveying your members each year can provide you with specific details about the types of meetings your members would like to attend. Surveys can be created online using free survey software, such as www.surveymonkey.com, www.surveygizmo.com, Google forms or by mailing or emailing a survey you create to your members.

In your survey, you can ask questions about what type of training and educational opportunities the member would find most beneficial, what type of fun activity the member would most like to attend, why the member joined, where the member would be willing to travel to attend a meeting, and if the member would be interested in remote learning and networking events (such as via webinars or conference calls). You can also find out if a member is interested in volunteering more with the association or would be willing to help set up a training or meeting.

Once you've collected survey responses, be sure to review the information and brainstorm ways you can ensure your chapter meetings will fulfill the expectations of your members.

Meaningful Chapter Meeting Ideas

Each chapter should hold meetings that make sense for their membership. We recommend that you pick and choose from your experience, the experience of other chapters, and ideas from SNAPA to make your chapter calendar full and fulfilling.

Chapter Meeting Ideas from SNAPA and SNA

SNAPA has several programs designed specifically to benefit our members. Hosting a chapter meeting on the SNA Member Benefits an easy way to introduce members to their benefits and hold a meaningful meeting. Below is a list of chapter meeting ideas from SNA:

STEPS Challenge:

The STEPS Challenge is a health and wellness program, created just for school nutrition professionals. Sponsored by Jennie-O Turkey Store, it provides SNA members with resources and tips to live healthier. It's easy (and free) to get started regardless of your budget or current fitness level, and members can earn prizes like gift-cards, cookbooks, fitness DVDs, and spa certificates by completing monthly challenges and submitting their completed tracking sheets to SNA. As part of the STEPS Challenge, you can hold a meeting to introduce members to STEPS; partner with a local fitness instructor to host a wellness event for your members; or share healthy recipes amongst members to get on the right track.

Webinar Viewing

SNA and SNAPA regularly host webinars to provide members with professional development opportunities—without having to travel! (Please note SNA webinars are available free to national members only). The webinars are free and provide members with a wealth of knowledge, and many are even worth valuable CEUs. All webinars are recorded and archived in the “webinars on-demand” library and can be viewed at any time by members. As a chapter meeting, you can host a webinar viewing party. Individuals can gather around the screen of a computer or projector (or multiple computers if that works best) and watch a live or recorded webinar. Bring snacks to share and have a discussion after the webinar about what you learned and how you’ll apply your newly gained knowledge to bring some fun to the event.

SNA Webinars can be found under Education and Professional Development at www.schoolnutrition.org

SNAPA Webinars can be found under Webinars at www.SNAPA.org

SNA and SNAPA Awards Program:

SNA provides members with the opportunity to get recognized for the work they do every day to ensure well-nourished students are prepared for success. Hold a workshop to inform members of the awards available to them and their colleagues and discuss how to write a winning nomination. Learning to write effectively to promote yourself or someone you admire is an important professional skill, too. If you know of any local members who have earned an award, have them come back and tell their story to interested individuals. At the end of the meeting, brainstorm together how members might use what they’ve learned in other ways.

SNAPA REGIONAL AWARDS

This scholarship is given to one individual in each region in Pennsylvania; there are eight (8) regions currently. Winners are selected for their outstanding contributions to SNAPA and their child nutrition programs. Each winner will be given complimentary registration, meals and lodging to the State's summer conference.

SNAPA EMPLOYEE OF THE YEAR

This award follows the criteria for the SNA Employee of the Year. Applicants must complete the SNA application and submit it to the state president by February 15th each year. It is given to an outstanding single unit employee whose achievements promote the child nutrition program. The winner is presented at the State conference and will receive two nights lodging (double accommodations), meals, and conference registration. The application can be found at the following link:
<https://schoolnutrition.org/Membership/Awards/EmployeeOfTheYear/>

SNAPA MANAGER OF THE YEAR

This award is given to an outstanding foodservice manager who is assigned to one school or a kitchen that serves more than one school. Applicants must complete the SNA application and submit it to the state president by February 15th each year. The evaluation is based on the manager's achievements in promoting the child nutrition program. The winner is presented at the State Conference and will receive two nights lodging (double accommodations), meals, and conference registration. The application can be found at the following link:

<https://schoolnutrition.org/Membership/Awards/ManagerOfTheYear/>

EJ SCHINDEL SCHOLARSHIP

The family of Edward J. Schindel has established this scholarship as a lasting memorial in his honor. The purpose is to provide a $500 scholarship for a graduating high school senior who is recommended by an active SNAPA member and intends to pursue a career in a food service-related field. Candidates are judged on academic excellences, extracurricular activities, community and employment experiences as well as career goals.

SNAPA FOOD SERVICE DIRECTOR OF THE YEAR.

This award is given to an outstanding Food Service Director. The evaluation is based on his/her outstanding child nutrition program's sound fiscal operation, student participation and acceptance of the program objectives, and his/her active involvement in all levels of SNAPA/SNA. In order to be eligible as SNAPA Food Service Director of the Year, the nominee must be SNS credentialed or certified. Applicants must complete the SNA application and submit it to the state president by February 15th each year. This winner is sent on the SNA so the SNA application must be completed. This individual receives the award at the State Conference. Conference registration, two nights lodging (double accommodations), and meals are awarded. The application can be found at the following link: <https://schoolnutrition.org/Membership/Awards/DirectorOfTheYear/>

SNAPA SCHOLARSHIP OPPORTUNITIES

Over the past year, SNAPA has awarded conference scholarships to attend SNA conferences and events. This is a result of our goal to increase member benefits and professional development opportunities. As we move into the upcoming year, we expect to continue to award these scholarships because we feel this is an invaluable benefit to our members. We will advertise these special opportunities in our Monday Morning and SNAPA Happenings newsletters.

SNA AWARDS

Visit the School Nutrition Association Website for applications and deadlines at:

<https://schoolnutrition.org/Membership/Awards/SNFScholarships/>

SNF Scholarships: The School Nutrition Foundation provides SNAPA members with scholarships to help them pursue college degrees in school nutrition-related fields and to help them attend national SNA conferences they may never get to attend otherwise. These are great opportunities that add value to SNAPA member's experience, especially as they are only available to SNAPA members. Hold a meeting to inform members about the scholarships available to them through SNF. Have a computer and projector screen available to show individuals how to use the online application system and discuss why individuals are going back to school or want to attend a national conference. If you know of any local members who have earned a scholarship, have them come back and tell their story to interested individuals.

Star Club:

The Star Club is SNA's way of recognizing and thanking members who recruit and help to retain SNAPA members. Hold a meeting to showcase the benefits of the Star Club and teach your members techniques to recruit and retain members. Make the meeting interactive by having members practice their SNAPA elevator speech and personal membership recruitment pitch with each other. Brainstorm where you can find more members and what your chapter could do with more members.

Cafeteria Site Visit: Hosting a chapter meeting about how to plan and execute a cafeteria site visit can help your members become local advocates for school nutrition. A cafeteria site visit is a great way to meet with your state legislator or Member of Congress/their congressional staff and convey a message to them on a specific issue or legislative matter. Cafeteria site visits are more effective than a simple meeting, as they give your Congress person a firsthand look at how school nutrition programs operate and they help you demonstrate your expertise and knowledge by providing them with a snapshot of what you do on a daily basis. A site visit can show your Congress person how the school nutrition programs work, how many children you feed, the size of your school district, and any concerns that you may have with the programs in general in a tangible way.

National School Lunch Week (NSLW): NSLW is held in October every year to help school nutrition promote the benefits of the National School Lunch Program. Every year, a new theme is created by SNA and corresponding tool kits, materials, and items for sale are made available to members. In the months leading up to NSLW, hold a meeting with your chapter members to share materials about NSLW and brainstorm together how you can celebrate this week in your school or district. Share recipes that fit the theme and think of fun ways to get kids involved. After NSLW, be sure to follow up with your members for pictures and stories about the week and share successes in your newsletter or next meeting.

National School Breakfast Week (NSBW): NSBW is held in March every year to help school nutrition promote the benefits of the National School Breakfast Program. Every year, a new theme is created by SNA and corresponding tool kits, materials, and items for sale are made available to members. In the months leading up to NSBW, hold a meeting with your chapter members to share materials about NSBW and brainstorm together how you can celebrate this week in your school or district. Share recipes that fit the theme and think of fun ways to get kids involved. After NSBW, be sure to follow up with your members for pictures and stories about the week and share successes in your newsletter or next meeting.

School Nutrition Magazine Discussion (aka Magazine Club): Invite members to come and participate in a “book club” discussion on SNA’s award-winning magazine, School Nutrition. Let members know which articles to read before the discussion and select someone to act as the discussion facilitator. Have healthy snacks available and be sure to allow for time for members to chat and catch up. In every edition of School Nutrition magazine, there is a “To Your Credit” section. This section references a specific article in the magazine. If you complete and submit this section to SNA after reading the article, you may earn 1 Continuing Education Unit (CEU) towards the SNA certificate program or SNS credentialing. You may complete and submit the “To Your Credit” for a CEU three times per year for certification and any number of times within the three-year period for credentialing. Your discussion can be more worthwhile if individuals know they can earn a CEU for participating!

School Lunch Hero Day (SLHD):

SLHD is held in May every year to help celebrate the great work school nutrition employees do all year round. There are a few great ways to utilize SLHD as a chapter:

- In the months leading up to SLHD, hold a meeting with your chapter members to share materials about SLHD and brainstorm together how you can celebrate this day in your school or district. After SLHD, be sure to follow up with your members for pictures and stories about the week and share successes in your newsletter or next meeting.
- Hold your own just-for-fun celebration during the week of SLHD. Give out fun awards to your members, hold a superhero costume contest, and come together to enjoy each other’s company.
- Send your members a hero day card or email thanking them for all they do throughout the year. A personal note of appreciation goes a long way to help individuals fondly think of the chapter and feel valued for what they do professionally and for the association.

Meeting Ideas from Local Chapters

- Baking and Cooking Workshops: Hold a workshop to teach new baking and cooking techniques and recipes.
- Tours: Many local chapters take field trips to tour stadium kitchens, casino kitchens, and industry facilities (PA local manufacturer's such as Herr's, Hatfield Meats, Nardone's Pizza, Giorgio, etc.)
- Health & Wellness Fair: Hold a health and wellness fair at a different elementary school each year and have carnival games with prizes and fruit and veggie tasting stations. In Montgomery County, MD, kids must first learn a fruit or vegetable fact before they can play or taste.
- Fall and Spring Meetings: Many local chapters hold meetings each year with a set agenda. Have different speakers at these meetings that are geared towards what is going on in school nutrition. When new regulations are passed, ask someone from the state agency to speak about how they will impact your programs.
- Wellness Walk: Get members together to form a team for a wellness walk. This is a great way to get involved in the community, a fun way for members to connect, and a healthy way to stay in shape.
- Community Service: Give back to the community in a meaningful way of your members' choosing, such as a collection for the local food bank or a holiday toy drive. This will give you some good publicity with the community and is a thoughtful way for members to find value in being a part of SNAPA.
- Thanksgiving Dinner: Invite the mayor, local newspaper editors, principals, school board members, community businesses, school nutrition professionals and family to come together for a good home cooked meal. Showcase the valuable work your school nutrition professionals do by thanking them publicly in front of the community.
- Holiday Party/ End of Year Meeting: The holidays are a great time to come together and celebrate! Have a just-for-fun meeting to regroup, enjoy each other's company and highlight upcoming opportunities through SNAPA for the year ahead.
- Craft & Vendor Evening: At local outdoor education facility, hold a craft (homemade crafts for sale) and vendor (Avon, Michee, Mary Kay, Pampered Chef) evening. Put a fire in the fireplace, have comfort food available for sale and craft projects for the children.

- Chili Cook-off/ Kitchen Olympics: Hold a fun competition for members in your chapter, such as a chili cook-off or kitchen Olympics. Ask local community members (such as the principals, school board members, local government officials) to act as judges. Ask a local newspaper to cover the event.

Common Meeting Issues and Solutions

Below is a list of common issues local chapters might hear from members who don't attend meetings, along with possible responses and solutions for your local chapter to test out:

Common Issue	Possible Solutions
Scheduled time for the meetings and/or the travel required deter participation.	Divide chapters into regions to address travel and participation issues. Consider involving school district to plan meetings on a rotational basis; so that everyone travels throughout the year. You can also consider holding “virtual meetings” through webinars or conference calls to cut back on travel time and expenses. This is an especially good option for board meetings, as less people are involved.
Meetings are too long.	Linking your meetings to earning CEUs is also an effective way to make members feel they are getting the most out of their time.
Generational issues arise about which topics are most interesting and attractive to members.	Survey members to find out what are hot topics or educational opportunities of interest for them . Customizing your chapter to the desires of your members should help focus your efforts and ensure members feel compelled to participate.
Childcare issues deter participation, as members need a babysitter just to attend the meeting.	If you are finding that members (or potential members) of your chapter need childcare to participate in chapter meetings, consider hiring a babysitter to attend your meetings. Ask a trusted student, friend, or daughter/son of a member to be a babysitter for the duration of your meeting. Having crafts or a story-time for the kids of your members will be a bonus for your members!

Below is a listing of 20 potential meeting topics that you could hold for your members which would meet the USDA Professional Standards

Volunteer Development

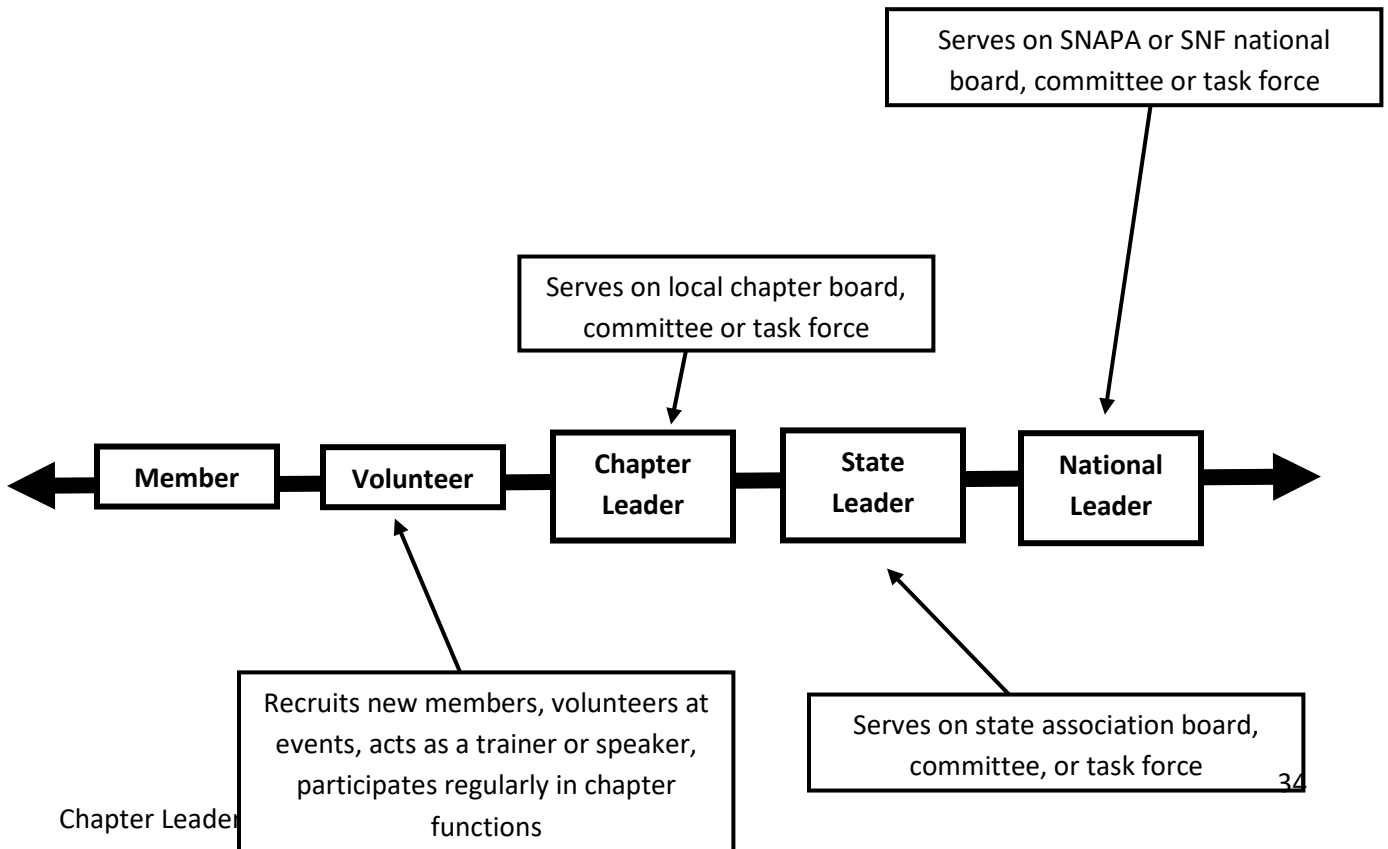

Making the Volunteer Ask

Just like asking someone to be a member, it is equally important to find potential leaders within the organization, talk to them about the benefits of becoming a leader in SNAPA, and ask them to participate in a leading role. Here are some tips to moving a member to become a leader in SNAPA:

- When asking someone to engage with SNAPA as a leader, you should stay positive and share your personal experience about how becoming a leader in SNAPA has helped you grow personally and professionally.
- Start off by asking individuals to engage with SNAPA by committing to smaller, easier tasks and then moving them to have a bigger role. Look out for active chapter members and leaders, as they could potentially become state association leaders.
- Always say thank you and recognize all contributions- big and small.

The Volunteer Continuum

A great way to think about volunteer development is to imagine that it is a continuum that members can move across. Please see the graphic below:

Here are a few important reminders about the volunteer continuum:

- The continuum is fluid. Members can back and forth across the continuum, as their own personal and professional schedules and desires change.
- The continuum is centered on what the member wants.
- Most individuals need a guide or mentor to move across the continuum.
- Members at all points should be valued and thanked.
- Members can move at different rates from one point to the next. There is no right or wrong timeline.

Small Tasks to Engage Members to Volunteer

If possible, start interested members on the path to volunteering by asking them to take on small, simple tasks. This sets your members up for success, while letting them feel more ownership in SNAPA and giving you a chance to find out their level of commitment and desire to lead with SNAPA. Below is a list of simple, small tasks to engage members:

- Be on an event planning committee for a specific event.
- Receive raffle prizes from a local business and bring them to the event.
- Shadow a leader at a specific event, such as the individual planning the upcoming tour or the person who will be conducting the baking workshop.
- Send in a recipe to be included in the cookbook.
- Update the SNAPA Facebook page on a weekly basis with news from SNAPA, local papers, the chapter, etc.
- Set up a STEPS challenge event to help people take steps towards a healthier lifestyle.
- Find a SNAPA webinar for everyone to listen to and discuss. You can even help everyone earn CEUs!

Mentoring Your Members

Having a formal or informal mentoring structure in place will help your local chapter continuously develop leaders to take a role on the board in the future and ensure that current leaders don't get burnt out.

A mentoring structure can—and should! —be simple. Here are some ideas to get your mentoring structure in place:

- Hold a new member orientation on a regular basis so that new members can feel welcomed and learn about the benefits of their membership. Even just having a long-time SNAPA member getting together over coffee with new members and answering questions can be a great and easy way to ensure your new members feel they are a part of the association.
- Encourage them to listen in on a SNA new member webinar. To find out when the next new member webinar will be held or share a recording of a previous new member webinar, visit www.schoolnutrition.org
- Recognize new members at all events and introduce them to the group in a friendly and inclusive way.
- Pair up a long-time member with a new member at every event to welcome them to SNAPA and answer their questions about membership.
- Hold board orientation every time new leaders take office. A board orientation can be as simple as the incoming officer meeting informally with the outgoing officer to learn the ropes and ask questions. You may also get the entire new board together and go through a more formal training.

Succession Planning

Below is a graphic demonstrating the cycle your chapter should strive for:

Remember, long-time leaders at the local, state and national level make for great mentors and membership recruiters.

Fundraising for Sustainability

Below are ideas collected from state and national SNA leaders and staff, based on previous experiences, for potential fundraisers for your local chapter.

Provide a service to the community, with all proceeds going to your SNAPA chapter.

Service ideas include:

- Work concessions at major sports arenas and/or concerts (Florida)
- Wash cars
- Bag groceries at a participating store for a donation
- Wait tables at a restaurant that sponsors such fundraisers

Host an event to raise money for your chapter. Event ideas include:

- Ticketed breakfast
- Chili Cook-off
- Sponsored lecture series
- Walkathon
- Wine and cheese tasting
- Yard sale
- Financial planning seminar
- Craft fair where supplies are sold to participants at a profit
- Fundraiser at a minor league sports team game (New Hampshire, New Jersey)
- Golf or bowling tournament
- Antique or hot rod car show (Florida)
- Beach or block party
- Fashion Show

Tack on a fundraiser to an already-existing Chapter meeting or event. Ideas for fundraising add-ons include:

- Raffle off prizes, such as:
 - Plasma TV or IPAD: Items are bought out of association budget and then reimbursed when the money is collected. (North Carolina)
 - Gift baskets: School regions each come up with different baskets to raffle off. Baskets items were donated by the employees who wanted to donate, and we had baskets such as a garden basket, beach basket and movie item basket. (North Carolina, New York, New Jersey)
 - 50/50 raffle, in which money is collected and then 50 % of money collected goes to the local chapter and 50% of the money collected goes to the winner of the raffle (New York, New Jersey, Missouri)
- Raffle off prizes, such as:
 - Handbags filled with goodies (Virginia)
 - Quilts (Missouri)
- Charge a non-member fee at Chapter events to cover association membership. All attendees can leave the event enrolled as an association member. (New York)
- Hold a live auction (Maine), a silent auction (Vermont, New Jersey, Ohio, Missouri), or a white elephant auction
- Invite a “party sales consultant” (i.e., Pampered Chef, etc.) to a Chapter meeting and allow sales for a percentage of the profit

Sell items for a profit. Ideas of items to sell include:

- Cookbook of favorite recipes from school staff members
- Sheet pans, which were bought at wholesale and marked up $3-$4 each (Massachusetts)
- Baking items promoted as "just in time for holiday baking", sold near Christmas (Massachusetts)
- T-shirts and sheet pans (Pennsylvania)
- Magazines
- Rolls and pairing knives sold by local chapters
- Pans and kitchen utensils sold through Spatula Central; flower bulbs; Christmas shopping event of local crafters, Tupperware, Home Interior, Tastefully Simple, Arbonne consultants, with a $20 fee per table (Missouri)
- Baked goods, crafts, etc. sold at school holiday bazaars

- Coupons, discount cards, peelers (These come in varying styles.)

Fundraise around important school nutrition dates, such as:

- National School Lunch Week: Second full week in October
- National School Breakfast Week: First full week in March
- School Lunch Hero Day: First Friday in May

As Committee Chairs, your responsibilities are to provide members with the information from your respective committees, and to carry back to the Executive Board any concerns of the members. Do you accept these responsibilities? If so, say I do.

Treasurer: _____:

As treasurer, you are charged with the collection and distribution of monies belonging to the Chapter. Your election to this office reflects the confidence of the members in your honesty and integrity. Through exacting attention to detail and accuracy you will prove the business ability we know you possess. Do you accept this responsibility? If so, say I do.

Secretary: _____:

As secretary, you will keep your pencil sharpened and your minutes in order. Your minutes will reflect the Chapter's activities of the year and serve as a guide to future officers. Through correspondence you will make other aware of the high purpose of our Association. Do you accept this responsibility? If so, say I do.

President-Elect: _____:

You are now entering a year of intensive training. It is your duty to bring your enthusiasm and friendly attitude to our Association so that others will want to join and become a part of this vital organization. You will assist the President and serve in his/her absence. Do you accept this responsibility? If so, say I do.

President: _____:

Your Chapter recognized in you the needed qualities of leadership to direct this Chapter. Your stewardship and faithfulness to the trust placed in you will set the pace for the Chapter during your term. You shall preside at all meetings of the Chapter and oversee the work of the committee chairs. You shall also represent your Chapter at State meetings and be the link between this Chapter and the State and National Organizations. Do you accept this responsibility? If so, say I do.

Past President: _____:

You have served this Chapter well, and we thank you for your hard work and dedication. You represent the foundation of our Association-the past leaders who have instilled in each of us a sense of pride and accomplishment in the work we do each day for the children we serve. Now, by presenting this gavel to _____ (new president), he/she will join this elite group of dedicated leaders.

To the new Board of Directors for the upcoming year: As you guide your Chapter remember to cultivate relationships and look for new partners to make our programs even more successful, I wish for you a wonderful year with many memories that will stay with you for life.

I now declare these officers duly installed. Join me in congratulating them!

Tips on Recording Minutes

Below are a few tips to help you record minutes:

- Record what is agreed and major decisions, not what is said.
- Organize the notes into clear, concise statements and record in permanent minute book to be read at next meeting.
- Record each motion on a separate paragraph (and number).
- Minutes should be typed, or legibly hand-written in ink
- Minutes should be read and approved by the members at the next regular meeting
- Minutes, when approved, should be signed by the Chapter Secretary (and, if desired, the Chapter President).

Rules of Parliamentary Procedure

The book, Robert's Rules of Order, is the recognized authority on Parliamentary Procedure for the Association. It should be used as a guide for conducting meetings in an orderly fashion. Parliamentary procedure is based on common sense and courtesy. It is intended to transact business efficiently, protect the rights of individuals, and preserve a spirit of harmony. The rules of parliamentary law state:

- Only one person speaks at a time.
- Each member has equal rights.
- Each item presented is entitled to discussion time.
- The decisions of the majority are upheld. However, the right of the minority to offer dissenting opinions and differing views are respected.

Progress of a Motion

1. Presenting the motion (by any member of the assembly).
2. Seconding the motion (by any other member of the assembly).
3. Restating the motion (by the chairperson immediately following the second).
4. Discussing the motion (except when the motion is not debatable).*
5. Voting on the motion (both affirmative and negative votes must be taken).
6. Announcing the results (by the chairman immediately following the vote).

*Amendments may be made to a motion during discussion, if the amendment does not substantially change the original motion. If the amendment is a substantial change to the original motion, the motion must be voted on first, before the change can be presented.

To purchase your copy of Robert's Rules of Order, check any book retailer or Amazon.com.
